

Focus first research project

Would you like to share your opinions about subjects that are important to you?

Would you like to be rewarded with a shopping voucher for your time?

If so, come and join our Focus First project at The Elfrida Society.

The project supports people to take part in research discussions on important topics such as transport, voting and healthcare.

Research discussions are run by different organisations who ask The Elfrida Society to help them to get feedback.

We will let you know when a research discussion comes up and you can let us know if you're free to take part!
